GUIDELINES FOR ANSWERING THE BUSINESS STUDIES QUESTION PAPER

Planning and organisation is extremely important. A well-planned work schedule/study timetable will ensure the completion of the curriculum which will adequately prepare learners for the end-of-the-year examination.

Preparation for quality responses

- Use the above-mentioned resource materials to prepare learners for answering different TYPES of questions.
- Remember that each TOPIC can be tested with objective, short, paragraph or essay type questions.
- An essay question may include a combination of topics and subtopics.
- Take careful note of the ACTION WORDS/VERBS used in the question, e.g.:
 - List/Name/State means learners should provide direct answers without discussion.
 - Discuss/Evaluate/Explain/Describe/Justify (or other higher cognitive verbs) means learners must give more information on the fact(s) they have listed/named/stated. Give reasons, examples etc. to substantiate the answer.
- Familiarise learners with the relevant parts of the Notes to Markers from the NSC question paper memorandums. Refer particularly to the NSC 2013 Notes to Markers, as there were some adjustments regarding the mark allocation in SECTION B (with questions containing case studies) and SECTION C (synthesis).
- When analysing topics and subtopics, study the last column (a guide to core content).
- The mark allocation will determine the length and time to be spent on the question.
- Learners will be penalised if the numbering of questions is incorrect. This is applicable to all the sections of the paper.
- Learners must keep abreast of current developments in legislation and the industry to be able to provide recent examples in order to obtain marks for originality in essay questions. Originality should not be seen as a separate section in an essay type question, but rather as an example that will either strengthen a point made, or enhance the discussion of the topic of the essay.

TYPES OF QUESTIONS

SECTION A

Multiple-choice, matching, choosing the correct concept/terminology, etc. (objective questions):

These types of questions require learners to have a thorough knowledge of the subject and they have to exercise logic and good insight.

The recommended approach to multiple-choice questions is to read and analyse the statement carefully. Thereafter, study the alternatives carefully and eliminate the incorrect options. Review the remaining possible answers and choose the correct one.

SECTION B

Paragraph style, case studies and source-based questions – shorter type questions:

- Learners must read and understand the information presented.
- Questions can be direct or indirect. These include source-based questions and case studies.
- Learners must possess a broader/deeper understanding of the broad topics and sub-topics to be able to substantiate, motivate, give reasons, justify, evaluate, etc.
- Learners will be required to provide their opinion, solve problems and make recommendations related to the question.
- Questions range from easy to difficult in terms of cognitive levels and levels/degrees of difficulty. (TAKE NOTE of the revised Bloom's taxonomy.)

SECTION CLonger/Essay type of questions

Learners must be able to organise information on a topic systematically and logically to be able to evaluate/analyse/motivate/suggest/recommend and elaborate on topics extracted from given case studies, scenarios etc. Learners must enhance or support their answers/viewpoints with recent examples to obtain marks for originality.

Learners must be familiar with words, such as 'challenges' and 'areas of concern', so that they are able to identify challenges in the case studies and to make recommendations. It is imperative that learners do not associate the word 'challenges' only with business environments or 'areas' only with geographical regions.

ESSAY-TYPE QUESTIONS CONSIST OF:

1. An Introduction (2 x 1) (2)
2. Core Content – Body (headings, subheadings, paragraphs). FULL SENTENCES must be used, but they may be bulleted, where applicable. (Max) (28)
3. Conclusion (Learners give their opinion in response to the question/statement) (1 x 2) (2)

The mark allocation for an essay-type of question is generally as follows:

CONTENT		MARKS
Facts		32
Layout		2
Analysis		2
Synthesis (marks to be allocated using this guide)	Factual marks No	0
	Some	1
	Only relevant facts were given.	2
Originality		2
Total Marks		40

Mark allocation for SYNTHESIS:

1. Allocate a ZERO mark if no relevant facts were given.
2. Allocate ONE mark if some irrelevant facts were given even though the learner could obtain a maximum of 32 factual marks.
3. Allocate TWO marks if only relevant facts were given.

NOTE:

Higher-order questions can be drawn from the contents prescribed in the CAPS document. This can take the form of application-type questions, e.g. correlation with practice, justification with reasoning, make predictions, suggest improvements, compile reports, provide recommendations, deduce, establish, evaluate, apply, etc. Note the action verbs that are used in the Examination Guidelines and CAPS document.

4. CONCLUSION

This Examination Guidelines document is meant to articulate the assessment aspirations espoused in the CAPS document. It is therefore not a substitute for the CAPS document which teachers should teach to.

Qualitative curriculum coverage as enunciated in the CAPS cannot be over-emphasised.
