QUESTION 8: ARCHITECTURE IN SOUTH AFRICASUSTAINABLE ARCHITECTURE

The Green School South Africa in the Western Cape has been built by architects who are sensitive to the local environment and animal life. The building is environmentally friendly, made up of local materials with systems that generate energy, purify waste, as well as recycling.

The architects intentionally created areas for farming and food production. This shows their awareness of the relationship between the school and the community.

8.1 Refer to FIGURES 8a, 8b and 8c and answer the following questions:

- Explain TWO features that the architects have used to encourage the children to be close to nature.
- How did the architects create light and shadow?
- How and why did the architects create a flower-shaped structure in the birds'-eye view of the building in FIGURE 8b?
- Comment on the choice and impact of colour in the interior in FIGURE 8c.

(8)

8.2 Discuss any TWO South African buildings/structures.

The following could be used as guidelines:

- Function
- Use of materials and technique(s)
- Stylistic features and/or decorative features
- Possible influences
- Environmental issues
